

PEOPLE & COMPANIES

Phillips Real Estate

Matthew J. Geise of Phillips Real Estate Services in Seattle was awarded the Certified Commercial Investment Member designation. Geise is an associate broker and executive director of Phillips' Multi-Family Group. The CCIM is awarded to people based on experience and completing a graduate-level curriculum.

Geise

Bank of America

Seattle is one of the cities being targeted by Bank of America with its new $55 million program to improve the energy efficiency of older buildings. The program provides low-cost loans and grants to community development institutions that finance energy improvements. Low-cost, long-term loans will help finance upfront costs for building owners. Applications are at <http://tiny.cc/5wmu2>.